Artist Statement

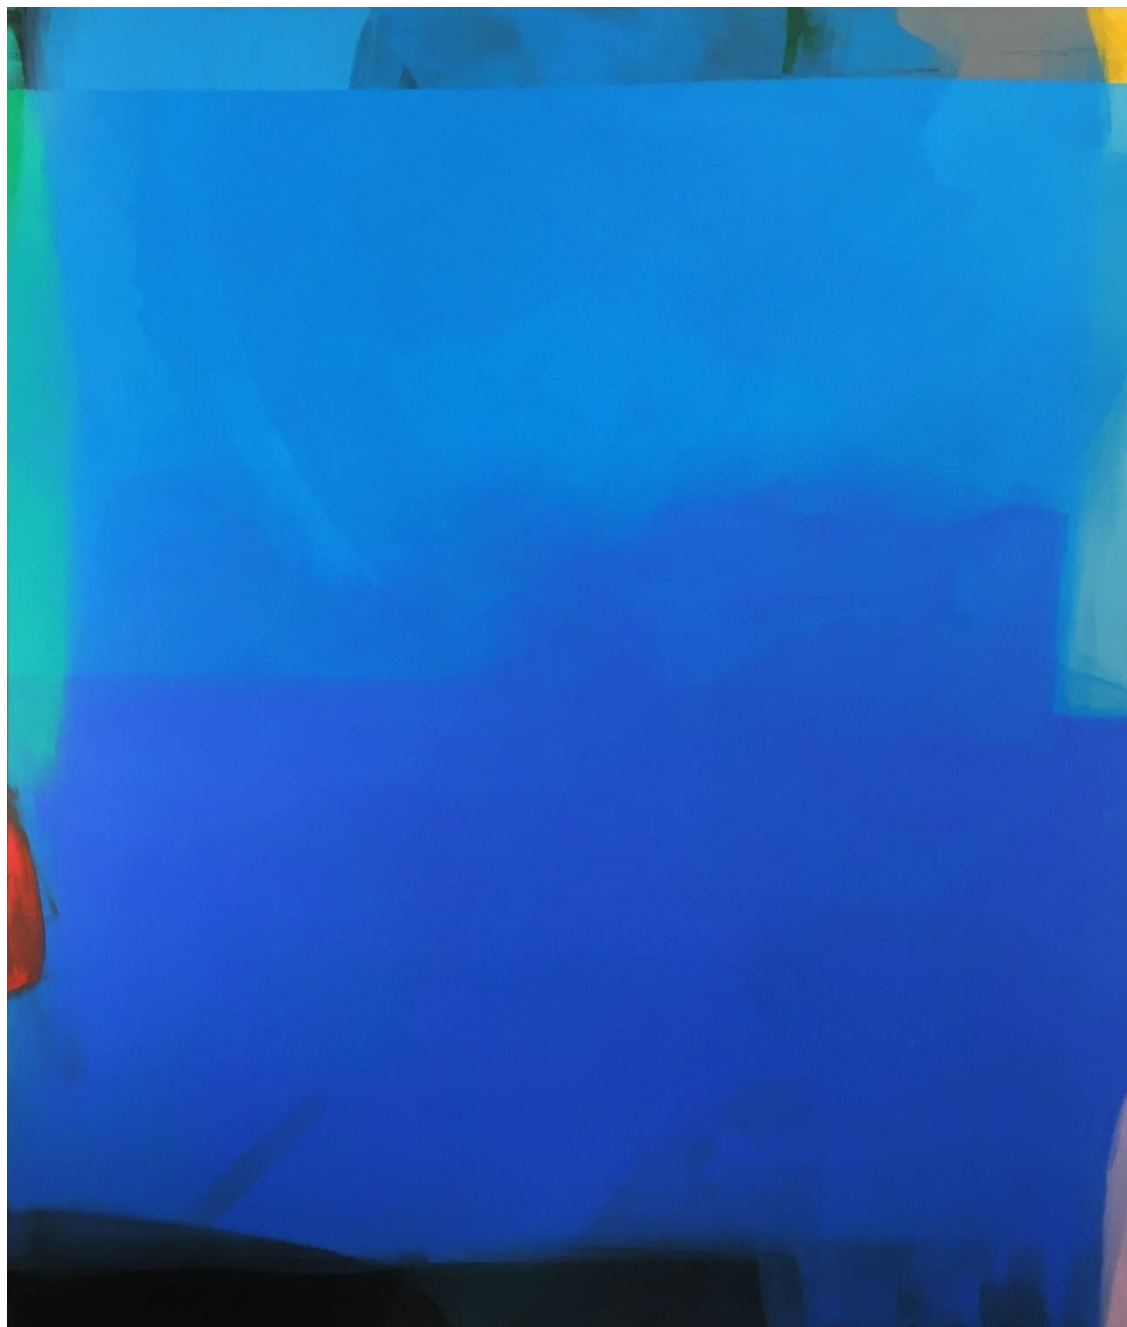

This exhibition continues my exploration of pure abstract art that commenced in 2018 (and intended as a deliberate adjunct to my previous semi-abstracted subject style). Following from my 'Coloursubject' series from my 2019 exhibition, which focused on works with a primary colour component with smaller contrasting areas often placed around the perimeter of my works, this new loosely-similar collection of works which I refer to collectively as my 'Strata' series employs a more grid-like format of blocks, strips and shapes; relying less with an emphasis on a primary colour, but on a suite of complimentary (and complementary) colours. This once again, forms a somewhat transitional exhibition which contains a few works that continue from the 2019 exhibition, or that are less reliant on a perceived grid.

The core foundation of these works is still 'colour' – particularly the emotive and evocative mood responses that colours can provoke; but so too is my continued experimentation with refined versus rough or eroded edges, overlays, and dynamic combinations of graphic elements.
