Artist's Statement

The works in this exhibition, NEW PERSPECTIVES, reflect a diverse range of genres.

A life-long interest in nature and Australian flora has always informed my art. It has been a passion to travel to remote areas on painting expeditions for inspiration for painting. Over the last few years this has not always been possible and I have painted many works from the 'sanctuary of home'. However, a trip to Kangaroo Island, South Australia did give me the opportunity to paint in the field. I am always exploring different techniques and media using colour, shape and pattern in the constantly evolving process of creative art and my works seek to convey my own experiences and vision using the language of paint and materials - a continuing journey into both mind and place.
